

KENYATTA NATIONAL HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING

History and Profile

KNH School of Specialized Nursing was established in 1996 to build capacity for specialized areas within the Hospital such as Critical Care Unit, Theatre, Renal, A&E and Newborn Unit from which the general units/wards have also benefited. The School offers Post Basic Diploma Specialized Nursing courses.

The courses started as in-house in the initial years and were later extended to nurses from other institutions within the country. Currently, the school receives students from the East and Central Africa region. All courses offered in the School are registered by the Nursing Council of Kenya (NCK) on full time basis over one calendar year. Approximately 100 nurses graduate from the school each year. Graduates from the KNH School of Nursing have made an impact in several institutions in Kenya, the East and Central African region and beyond.

Our students are trained in well equipped units where they gain a wealth of knowledge and skills to become competent in their area of specialty. Our lecturers are highly qualified and quite experienced in various specialty areas in line with courses offered in the school.
